

Dr Sébastien Bloc is an anesthetist working in a private hospital in Paris Clinique Drouot Sport – France).

Involved in training and research in Regional Anesthesia, he is the main author of many articles and he is in charge of the Postgraduate Diploma in Regional Anesthesia in Paris dedicated for residents, fellows and practitioners. Other duties involve being an active member of French Society of Anesthesia and Intensive Care (SFAR) and also being a regular speaker and workshop instructor at national and international conferences